A TAVOLA CON EXPÒ

The Natural Cedar Stool

Riva 1920 presents, within its famous collection of stools in cedar, the Expo stool, a project of Alessia Galimberti and Sergio Bizzarro.

Expo is born from the imagination and inspiration of its designers with the intuition to combine the food world with that design, drawing inspiration from the theme of the most important World Exhibition EXPO 2015 in Milan.

Carved from a single block of scented cedar wood, it is modeled to obtain its original shape with special processes performed by high tech machines and then hand finished by skilled craftsmen, to transmit the ability and passion of Made in Italy workings, so as to give a soft and persuasive patina.

The stool has on its four sides the EXPO written letters, represented through the oneiric stylization of the most common accessories for the table, recalling the silhouette etched into the wood.

A stool surpassing its mere sitting function, sums up with a pinch of irony, design, Italian style, charm and elegance, charging eloquent meanings.
